

BULGARI IN SHANGHAI

The Bulgari Hotel and Resorts group is adding another luxury hotel to their collection. Set to open in 2016, the fourth Bulgari hotel will be located in Suhe Creek, a protected heritage zone in the Zhabei District. The hotel will have 120 rooms and suites, offering some of the largest rooms in Shanghai, including an extraordinary Bulgari suite spanning 400 square metres. The jewel in the Bulgari Hotel crown will be an exclusive Chinese fine dining restaurant in an historical building which dates back to the early 1900 – the former Chinese Chamber of Commerce. When restored to its former glory, it will also house an exhibition of Chinese antiquities. The hotel will be located in the 12 upper floors of a 40-storey building with a rooftop Italian restaurant offering diners a refreshing view of Shanghai.

CAPTURE THE MOMENT

If memories are your best souvenir from a holiday, then the Flytographer is your best buddy. As more and more destinations and attractions ban selfies, more travellers are using professional photographers to help them capture their vacation memories. Travel photographer service Flytographer connects travellers with a network of over 280 photographers around the world who are carefully chosen for their personality, talent and passion. From the Flytographer website, you can pick a package, choose a photographer from the talent pool and look forward to memorable candid shots which are delivered to you within five days. Packages start at USD250 for a half-hour shoot and 15 digital photos.
